From Your Pastor

This season of Lent, I am preaching a series on spiritual transformation. On Sunday, I spoke about the need for us to slow down and eliminate the need to rush in our lives. I also talked about the need to celebrate more moments in our lives and to really take time for joy. So, I hope you do both of those things this week.

I had a mentor who believed that although we were the pastors of that church, all the members were the ministers, that everyone had a call to serve that church in that time and place. I want to thank all of you for serving in that capacity--whether as teachers, in the choir, as liturgists, as elders, as greeters and ushers, in the kitchen, behind the scenes, and everywhere else in between. And as always, please let us know if you see something that needs our attention!

Grace and Peace,

RIX
