A Brief Word from Tyler:

Try as I might, I still managed to over-schedule myself! I want to start with an apology for doing that, I said yes to too many things and am now having to make arrangements to make it possible to keep commitments. While I've been talking about a membership class on October 1st along with the breakfast, I will be out of town that morning. I am sorry that I won't be here for the first class.

But fear not! Rev. Betsy Stow, who is preaching that day, was kind enough to step up and help me plan an overview of Presbyterian history to introduce where we've come from. I put together a Jeopardy game as a fun means of testing our collective knowledge, and I know that it will be a great event. My pastor friend, Rev. Emily, described what is going on as being "a completely Presbyterian moment, where it is not on one individual to complete a task, but a mix of the whole body coming together to make things happen."

So, try as I might to be here, I apologize for not being present. I am so thankful for Betsy stepping in in my absence and I know it will be a great morning. I'm looking forward to hearing from you about the Presbyterian Jeopardy!

In Christ,
Rev. Tyler Brock
